

Lindsay Robertson

Singer Songwriter Vancouver BC
Blues, Roots, Folk, Alt-Country

Checking into the crowded Canadian singer songwriter scene, Lindsay Robertson is ready to unpack her first solo record: Gypsy Hotel. Tracking the muse from her roots in Guelph Ontario to her home in Vancouver BC, Gypsy Hotel plays out like a confession from a gal who isn't so sure she did wrong...

There is no cast of special guest players, she doesn't hail from rock royalty. She offers only a stripped down bedroom sound. Packing no more than guitar and voice, her sultry songs explore territory mapped out by influences like Tom Waits and Bessie Smith. You'll find her down the hall from fellow tale tellers Martin Tielli and Martha Wainwright.

"This uncommon songbird exposes her heart-ache with a twisted twang worthy of Waits and Wainwright." - Reid Jamieson
